Using Surveys

Similar to polls, are a great way to interact with your site’s visitors. You can create surveys to collect opinions and information from visitors. Unlike polls, which allow visitors to “vote” on single topic, surveys can contain multiple questions and allow visitors to respond in different methods.

To use surveys, you must first enable the Survey feature.

1. From the Administration:Features page, click the Global Features tab.
2. On the Global Features tab, in the Secondary area, enable the Surveys feature and click Apply.

Tiki saves the information and reloads the page.

Now that you've turned on the feature, let's configure it...
