JUST AWAY I cannot say, and I will not say That she is dead--she is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, she has wandered into another land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there. And you O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the Love of There as the Love Here; Think of her still as the same, I say: She is not dead---she is just away! With Deepest Sympathy from Liz and Devida and Family to the entire family of Sarah Frances Randolph aka PeeWee

I am sorry for the loss of your loved one. Isa 25'8 helps us to appreciate that we have the opportunity to see them again. The resurrection is a wonderful thing that God provided for us. This has given hope to many. May it do the same to your family. A.L

It is comforting to receive words of comfort and encouragement from family and friends when dealing with the loss of a loved one. Even though each one of us deal with death differently, words of encouragement are a big help in coping with the loss. The best source of comfort comes from the One describe at 2 Corinthians 1:3,4 as the God of all comfort. He comforts us with the beautiful hope of the resurrection. This hope will make it possible to be reunited with our loved ones. He even provides a guarantee that this will become a reality. That guarantee is the resurrection of his own son, Jesus Christ. I often reflect appreciatively on what Jesus said about his Father and himself at John 5:21. This assures me that what he later stated in verses 25 and 28 will come true. At a time that is suitable I encourage the family to read those words of hope and comfort. Like me you can be confident that the Creator knows of your pain and can be a help readily found at this time of distress. So sorry to read of your loss.

To Jean and the family members of Mrs. Sarah our hearts were dearly saddened to hear of her passing. For Mrs Sarah was a well known person in the community and loved and cherished by those who knew her. Mrs Sarah loved to fish and talk to all of her neighbors on Longfellow Street. God bestowed on her longevity and a good christian life. Rest in peace now Mrs. Sarah, we loved you but God loved you best. Mamie Mckoy Richardson and Alvera Mckoy Butts, Residents of Longfellow Street.
